

Annual Function with a Difference

Gyanshree School, Noida celebrated its fourth annual cultural fiesta, 'Abhimanch', on Sunday, 19th November 2017 with great festivity and fanfare. The programme began with the Lighting of the Lamp followed by Tridhara- the Invocation Dance performed to Mishr Raag, a combination of raags- Jog, Basant and Durbari, sung by the school Choir. As the name suggests, Tridhara was a beautiful blend of Indian classical and western dance forms.

'Riversutra', the annual theatrical performance depicted the journey of the river, the destruction, the neglect and havoc caused by man and its after effects - the choking and dying of rivers, the wakeup call and the rallying for rivers by visionaries.

The Chief Guest- Shri Anil Swarup, Secretary, Department of School Education and Literacy, Government of India was overwhelmed by the unique synthesis of the dance forms and applauded the effort of the students. He further complimented Shreeyans for brilliantly putting across the message of saving our rivers through 'Riversutra'!

The Guest of Honour Shri Anand Kumar, a mathematics prodigy best known for his Super 30 programme complimented the students on the show and urged students to appreciate and value what they have. He shared real life stories of a few of the 450 under privileged students whom he has mentored so far. He was given a standing ovation by the audience for his selfless service and the success stories of his students.

Shri Pawan Negi, the spirited and feisty cricketer was the Special Guest for the evening. Shri K.C Jain and Shri Pradeep Srivastava, members of the School Executive Committee, also graced the occasion.

The annual report -'Communique' highlighted the achievements of the students and elucidated on the journey so far.

The Director, Ms Rita Kapur complimented Shreeyans on the success of the show and reiterated that Gyanshree promotes strong Indian Values with Global Perspectives and is a nursery for preparing students for the 21st century.

The Principal, Ms Brinda Ghosh, updated the audience on the school's achievements and urged parents to support the school in the holistic development of Shreeyans.
